
Start of Block: Q1. Introduction

Q1.1 Dear survey participant,

In this survey, which is organized by researchers working at various European universities, we will ask you to answer a set of questions about political and economic decisions by governments.

What you will do in this study:

You will evaluate different kinds of government economic policies. Your honest and thoughtful responses are important to us and to the study. There are no right or wrong answers.

Length of time required: We expect people to take less than 10 minutes on average to complete the survey.

Confidentiality and Anonymity: Your participation in this research is confidential and anonymous. Neither the survey company nor the researcher will have any means of associating your responses with you.

Reporting of Results: The results of the research will be reported in research papers published in scientific journals and books. Thank you for your participation in this study

IMF.B.1 Here is some background: [Ireland/Spain/Portugal/Greece] has experienced a $\{e://Field/publicdebt\}$ increase in the level of public debt. The debt level is $\{e://Field/debtlevel\}$ troubling. The government is finding it $\{e://Field/borrowing\}$ difficult to borrow money on financial markets to pay for public spending. This presents a $\{e://Field/urgency\}$ urgent threat to the security of your savings and to the broader economic situation in Ireland.

Page Break

IMF.B.2 Here is some more background: To address the economic concerns, the $\{e://Field/party\}$ Prime Minister announces in a televised speech that the government will implement $\{e://Field/spendingcuts\}$ spending cuts to limit the increase in public debt. These cuts will $\{e://Field/extent\}$ affect funding for pensions, health care, education and public transport, for instance. The main opposition party, $\{e://Field/oppositionparty\}$, criticizes the measures and doubts whether they will be successful.

If imf = 1

IMF.B.3 Here is some additional background:

The Prime Minister says that these spending cuts are necessary. This is because the International Monetary Fund (IMF) has made these cuts a precondition for Ireland to get an emergency loan that could stabilise the financial situation. The IMF is an international organization that provides emergency loans to countries in crisis, but only to governments who commit to carry out certain reforms. Ireland would not receive the IMF loan without the cuts.
